20RC26 - The Senäts Emblem and Flag Act

WHEREAS , the Cosâ did last month recreate the Senäts, and Talossa is once again a bicameral legislature-type country; and WHEREAS the Cosâ in the recent past adopted the "Portcullis" as its symbol; Therefore, the Cosâ hereby adopts officially the above emblems for the Senäts. 20RC28 - The Naming of Cantons Act

Talossa consists of 15 sub-provincial units called (since 1984) "Cantons," but these Cantons don't have names, only numbers (e.g. 73, 74, 75, etc.). In order to make them more interesting, and to honour several Talossans, the Cosà hereby names these Cantons according to the list below. Names with asterisks are traditional (and some already official). Names without asterisks are new, and are named for Prime Ministers beginning with Dan Lorentz and going up through Jack Schneider. No slight is intended against post-1989 PMs, it's just we ran out of Cantons.

Uréu q'estadra sã: R. Ben Madison (PC-Vuode)

Uréu q'estadra sâ,

20RC30 - The Ultimate E-Mail Amendment

A voter's e-votes must be placed from that address in order to be counted. If the Secretary has reasonable grounds to suspect fraud, he may delay acceptance of e-votes till they can be verified. An e-vote shall indicate the name of the person voting, the party voted for, and any referendum choices.

Uréu q'estadra sâ,
Ben Madison (PC-Vuode)

20RC31 - The Establishment of Florencia Province Act

WHEREAS , John Eiffler finds association with Mussolini distasteful, he has opted to form a new province consisting of Canton 108 (Florencià Canton), to be titled Florencià Province. This removes this Canton from Mussolini Province. Eiffler's citizenship is transferred to Florencià Province. This bill takes effect upon Eiffler's formal promulgation of an acceptable Provincial Constitution for Florencià Province.
