34RZ14 - The $20 Registration Fee Act

34 RZ14 - The $20 Registration Fee Act

WHEREAS , the mounting costs of running the Kingdom of Talossa need to be defrayed, and WHEREAS , the Organic Law grants the Secretary of State the right to impose a uniform fee on political parties to defray the costs of Talossa's official expenditures,

Therefore, the Ziu hereby directs the Secretary of State to charge a fee of 1180 Ben ($20 US) to each political party in forthcoming elections, with the understanding that parties which do not pay the fee shall not be registered. The funds will be placed in the Account of Inland Revenue and the government may, by law, appropriate funds from that account to defray specific, itemized expenditures.

Uréu q'estadra sã: Fritz von Buchholtz (CLP, Maritiimi-Maxhestic)

 Repealed by 42RZ14 - The Registration Act **

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Fritz von Buchholtz (MC-CLP)

34RZ15 - The Definition of Political Parties (Amendment) Act

Whereas, a political party is defined as a “group of individuals” joining together to achieve the same goals,

Therefore, the following is added to the Organic Law as Article VI, Section 3, and the Ziu calls for a referendum to be held at the earliest opportunity to ratify this addition:

Article VI, Section 3. No political party may register to contest any election for the Cosâ unless it has at least three registered members.

Uréu q'estadra så,
Fritz von Buchholtz (MC-CLP)

34RZ16 - The Rap Court Act

Whereas, the Ziu has the legal authority (Organic Law, Article XVI, Section 1) to establish lesser courts subject to the final jurisdictional review of the Uppermost Cort, and

Whereas, Talossa comprises a considerable stretch of public coastline frequented by Cestoûr tourists, and

Whereas, along the coastline, as well as in inland regions of the Kingdom, some Cestoûrs (and possibly, God forbid, Talossan citizens) have been observed playing loud music and, especially, rap music, and

Whereas, it is a scientifically verifiable and self-evident fact that no human being could possibly actually "enjoy" rap music, but rather, they play it in order to annoy other people;

Therefore:

1. It shall henceforth be illegal in Talossa to play music anywhere within the Kingdom where said music is audible in a public place, without the unanimous consent of the public. Any law enforcement officer, upon the complaint of any one member of the public, shall be empowered to arrest the violators immediately.
2. The Rap Court shall serve as the court of first appeal for all such arrests conducted under the authority of paragraph 1.
3. Ián Metáiriá, Quedéir Castiglhá, and Harry Madison shall be appointed Justices of the Rap Court.
4. All annoying public music shall be considered "rap" music for purposes of this act.
5. Upon violation of the law, violators will have their sound systems confiscated, and these shall become the property of Talossa. If the sound system is attached to an automobile, said automobile shall be considered an extension of the sound system and shall likewise be confiscated.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)

34RZ17 - The German Amendment

Whereas, in the course of German history, free elections allowed the rise to power of the Nazi party, bent on crushing free speech and the mass-expulsion of those who disagreed with their narrow-minded and self-serving vision of German purity, and

Whereas, in the course of Talossan history, we have shared the same experience as our German brethren, and

Whereas, after 1945, the German People wisely prevented the return of fascist groups by enacting guarantees in their Basic Law (constitution); therefore:

The Ziu hereby approves, and sends to the people for their decision in a referendum, the following Amendment to the Organic Law, modeled after the Basic Law (Constitution) of the Federal Republic of Germany:

Article VI, Section 3. Political parties that, by reason of their aims or the behaviour of their adherents, seek to undermine or abolish the equal rights of all law-abiding Talossans, to pirate or assist in the piracy of the copyrighted materials or trademarked name of Talossa, or to endanger the very existence of Talossa, are inorganic and may not participate in the electoral process.

The Uppermost Cort decides on the question of inorganicity upon a complaint from the Attorney General. After a party has been ruled inorganic, it becomes illegal to set up a new organization to pursue the inorganic aims of the original party. Details are regulated by laws of the Ziu.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)

34RZ18 - The Triumphant Talossa Day Act

Whereas, the Kingdom of Talossa continues to flourish despite the treachery of republican traitors and their cheap copy-cat version of “Talossa,” and

Whereas, the sudden departure of these said republicans on June 1, 2004 has neither slowed the growth nor hindered the political and cultural life of Talossa, and

Whereas, the triumph of Talossa after over a year since the defection becomes more evident with every passing day,

Therefore the Ziu hereby declares June 1 to be observed as “Triumphant Talossa Day,” in perpetuity as a celebration of the Talossan spirit.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Márcüs Cantaloúr (MC-MN)

34RZ19 - The Give-Me-A-Prize-for-a-Book-I-Wrote Act

WHEREAS , the development of Talossan literature and media is a most noble pursuit, and

WHEREAS , those who author works about Talossa or materials in the Talossan language deserve recognition and encouragement,

Therefore the Ziu hereby establishes an annual award scheme to be known as the "Prime Minister's Literary Awards." The awards shall be distributed by the Prime Minister according to rules and regulations established by a three member committee that shall be appointed by the Prime Minister.

The Ziu further declares that this committee shall make these regulations public on Wittenberg and they shall be subject to final approval by the Ziu.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Márcüs Cantaloúr (MC-MN)

34RZ20 - The Official Statement Act

Whereas, phony, self-serving and fictitious “histories” of events inside Talossa which transpired last June (2004) are floating around the internet outside of Talossa, and

Whereas, an objective non-partisan statement on those events would be of benefit to the nation and the general public,

Therefore, the Ziu hereby calls upon the Prime Minister to appoint an Official Statement Committee to consist of the King, the Prime Minister, and one representative to be appointed by the CLP party and one to be appointed by the ZPT party. The mandate of the Committee shall be to prepare for public consumption an official record of events that led to the treasonous identity theft of Talossa’s name and to publicly identify the persons legally responsible. The committee shall be chaired by such person as the Prime Minister shall appoint, but the Ziu recommends the name of Marc Moisan for the chairmanship, as he has already prepared a preliminary version of the proposed statement.

The official Statement shall be published on the internet and shall serve as an official legal record of events. However, the deliberations themselves on the wording of the statement shall be held in private.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)

34RZ21 - The Burgermeister of Inland Revenue Act

WHEREAS , as an organized corporation Talossa needs to have an official point man handling its revenues, and

WHEREAS , Talossan precedent and tradition has enshrined the (now defunct) office of Burgermeister of Inland Revenue to handle the Kingdom's finances,

Therefore, the Prime Minister shall designate a Burgermeister of Inland Revenue to handle any moneys that Talossa shall take in, and shall empower the Burgermeister to consult with banks in the Greater Talossan Area to establish an official bank account for the Government of Talossa.

Uréu q'estadra så,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)

34RZ22 - The Salute to the Flag Act

34 RZ22 - The Salute to the Flag Act

WHEREAS , el Bicoloreu, the national flag of Talossa, has been unchanged in design since 1981 and has stood for more than two decades as a unifying symbol of all Talossans everywhere, and

WHEREAS , most Talossan public gatherings (including this TalossaFest) include the Flag as the most profound emblem of our 25 year old community,

Therefore, the Ziu hereby adopts as official this Salute to the Flag, which can be said voluntarily, with one's right hand over one's heart, at all public gatherings which include the Flag:

"I salute the Talossan flag, with affection and smiling devotion to the Kingdom for which it stands: one Talossan nation, undivided and free, a home for all our people."

Uréu q'estadra sã: King Robert I

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)

34RZ23 - The Attorney General Advisory Board Act

Whereas, the name “Talossa” is a legal trademark held by King Robert I in trust for the entire Talossan nation, and

Whereas, some unauthorized individuals have violated Talossa’s legal ownership rights by using the name “Talossa” to identify their own club, and have registered multiple domain names containing the name “Talossa” in order to diminish Talossa's presence on search engines and to defraud the public,

Therefore, the Ziu hereby empowers the Prime Minister to appoint, by PD, a Cußéglh d’Adnastaziun (Advisory Board), made up of trusted, loyal Talossans. The Board shall have one formal representative from each political party holding seats in the Cosâ and/or Senate.

The function of the Board shall be to consult with legal counsel and other advisors, to explore Talossa’s legal options, and to suggest courses of action to the government for the purpose of trademark enforcement and related matters. Should such action be taken, it shall be taken by the Attorney General in the name of all Talossans.

The Attorney General may take no official action without the consent of the Prime Minister, but (due to the sensitive nature of his work) the consent of the Ziu is not required on a case-by-case basis. The Attorney General, of course, is subject in all his official actions to the oversight of the Prime Minister, who is in turn subject to the Cosâ through the Vote of Confidence. Any actions taken by the Attorney General may also be voided by law.

Uréu q'estadra sâ,
Ben Madison (King of Talossa)
