61RZ13 - Sense of the Ziu: A First Step Towards Decency

WHEREAS on October 17th, Breneir Tzaracomprada told another citizen he was cute amidst an aggressive policy dispute. This made the other citizen uncomfortable, but when told that he was being rude, he reiterated that he thought the target of his affections was cute. Several people again reminded him that was inappropriate behavior, but S:reu Tzaracomprada took it further, saying he thought his target was handsome and that he'd tell anyone who asked. He said he'd keep saying whatever he wanted.

Some weeks later, S:reu Tzaracomprada followed up these incidents by saying that he thought the same young man was "suave and debonair." He repeated it again when asked to stop. And he loudly proclaimed that he would continue to engage in this behavior, even when told very clearly that his target was deeply unhappy with his attentions, and

WHEREAS this treatment of another Talossan was unacceptable. Behavior must be considered in context: there's nothing wrong with the word "cute" in many other situations, nor is it unreasonable to compliment someone's physical beauty at times. However, this behavior was situationally inappropriate: (a) the "compliments" were combined with antagonism, (b) they were directed by an older person to a much younger person with no real existing relationship, and (c) S:reu Tzaracomprada was made aware that his target was very uncomfortable with the behavior. It is clear in context, then, that S:reu Tzaracomprada was engaging in sexual harassment and

WHEREAS S:reu Tzaracomprada has made it clear that he does not regret his behavior, suggesting that it might happen again, and

WHEREAS it is awkward for the administrators of Wittenberg to act to limit this sexual harassment, considering S:reu Tzaracomprada is the sole vocal legislator for a political party, and this hesitance is understandable but not sustainable, and

WHEREAS it materially harms the Kingdom of Talossa to permit it to become a place where one citizen can sexually harass another with impunity,

THEREFORE be it known that it is the sense of the Ziu that any further misbehavior by S:reu Tzaracomprada must not be tolerated by the administrators of Wittenberg and the Chancery.

Similarly, anyone else acting in such a way must meet firm consequences in a timely manner. We encourage the administrator(s) of Wittenberg to be more proactive in general in their efforts to curtail personal or sexual harassment by other citizens. Heated debate is wonderful, sharp words might be necessary, but persistent and unapologetic harassment needs to be addressed.

The Chancery is hereby further encouraged to appoint an official to whom this power is delegated, considering that the Secretary of State might feel conflicted if they are the personally the target of harassment.

No one deserves to be treated this way.

Noi urent q'estadra sâ,

Baron Alexandru Davinescu (MC-PROG)

Dame Miestră Schivă (MC-¡Avant!)

61RZ14 - The Charitable PermSec, Again Act

WHEREAS, the outgoing Minister of Foreign Affairs initiated a process to appoint a new member of the Civil Service to administer the Bureau for Humanitarian Aid and International Development, and

WHEREAS, the current Seneschal determined that the position as currently codified is political, and

WHEREAS, Talossa's contributions to efforts on humanitarian aid and international development and the administration of such should be apolitical.

THEREFORE, the Ziu of the Kingdom of Talossa enacts the following statutory change.

El Lexhatx Section D.2.6.6 which reads as follows:

2.6.6 The Bureau for Humanitarian Aid and International Development (The Bureau) shall serve as the hub for the Kingdom of Talossa's support for disaster and poverty relief and other forms of humanitarian assistance, emergency response and the promotion of efforts towards socioeconomic development.

2.6.6.1 The Bureau shall operate under the auspices of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The Bureau shall be administered by an Administrator to be appointed by the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

2.6.6.2 The Bureau shall be funded by contributions from individuals, nonprofit organizations and where deemed appropriate by the Ziu, legislative appropriations.

2.6.6.3 The Administrator shall make every effort to ensure that Bureau's funds are donated to humanitarian organizations in a timely manner, and shall notify the public when outgoing donations are made. This notice shall include at least the amount, date, and beneficiary of the outgoing donation(s).

2.6.6.3.1 Other provisions of el Lexhatx notwithstanding, outgoing donations made with money contributed by private parties shall not require the approval of the Ziu.

A new section, 1.8 is added under El Lexhatx Section C, to read as follows:

1.8 The Bureau for Humanitarian Aid and International Development (The Bureau) shall serve as the hub for the Kingdom of Talossa's support for disaster and poverty relief and other forms of humanitarian assistance, emergency response and the promotion of efforts towards socio-economic development.

1.8.1 The Bureau shall operate under the auspices of the Royal Civil Service. The Bureau shall be administered by a Permanent Secretary for Humanitarian Aid and International Development to be appointed by the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

1.8.2 The Bureau shall be funded by contributions from individuals, nonprofit organizations and where deemed appropriate by the Ziu, legislative appropriations.

1.8.3 The Permanent Secretary for Humanitarian Aid and International Development shall make every effort to ensure that the Bureau's funds are donated to humanitarian organizations in a timely manner, and shall notify the public when outgoing donations are made. This notice shall include at least the amount, date, and beneficiary of the outgoing donation(s).

1.8.4 Other provisions of el Lexhatx notwithstanding, outgoing donations made with money contributed by private parties shall not require the approval of the Ziu.

Breneir Tzaracomprada (MC-GREEN)

61RZ15 - The Sentient Rights Act

WHEREAS, it can be said that one objective in granting rights is to reduce suffering and enhance flourishing, so the use of sentience as a guiding characteristic may be more appropriate, and

WHEREAS, it was the trailblazing philosopher Jeremy Bentham who wrote in 1789, "The question is not, Can they reason? nor, Can they talk? but, Can they suffer?", and

WHEREAS, sentience is the characteristic of consciousness whereby an organism has a sufficient level of awareness to experience suffering, and

WHEREAS, sentience has been proven to be a characteristic not exclusive to homo sapiens sapiens, and

WHEREAS, it is therefore a fact that the restriction of the normative and legal discussion and codification of rights to humankind is an unacceptable case of anthropocentric speciesism.

THEREFORE, be it enacted that el Lexhatx F.5.3.13 (Culture) which currently reads:

10 December. Human Rights Day. A suggested method to celebrate Human Rights Day is reviewing Article XI of The Organic Law and/or the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

and the current el Lexhatx F.5.2.7 which reads:

December 12: Llimbaziua (Language Day).

is renumbered as F.5.2.8.

The following new article is reinserted as el Lexhatx F.5.2.7 (Culture) to read as:

10 December. Sentient Rights Day. A day to celebrate the dignity and honor the rights of all sentient beings.

Breneir Tzaracomprada (MC-GREEN)

61RZ16 - Reappointing Istefan Perþonest to the UC Act

WHEREAS, Istefan Perþonest's appointment to the Uppermost Cort was approved via 55RZ17 the Elevating Istefan Perþonest to the UC Act in January 2021, and

WHEREAS, the time has come for his reappointment to the Uppermost Cort.

THEREFORE, the Ziu of the Kingdom of Talossa, hereby re-appoints Istefan Perþonest to a seat on the Uppermost Cort to commence on January 1, 2026, pursuant to the provisions of Organic Law Article VIII, Section 4.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Breneir Tzaracomprada (MC-GREEN)

61RZ17 - Sense of the Ziu: Moving Forward Without Rough Music

WHEREAS, the Green Party has been an observer to and supportive of the laudable efforts of the Summit on Toxicity and Destructiveness (later described as the Summit), and

WHEREAS, we attempted to bring to the attention of the Summit a more clear-cut and concerning incident involving two of the Summit's leading figures, Seneschal Dame Miestra Schiva and Progressive Alliance MC Baron Alexandreu Davinescu but Summit participants refused, for unknown reasons, to examine it, and

WHEREAS, under Section 4 of the Cross-Party Joint Statement on Harassment, the Green Party reviews this "Rough Music" incident between Dame Miestra Schiva and Baron Alexandreu Davinescu to first bring it to public attention for the purposes of the Summit's focus on toxic and destructive behavior and second to encourage addressing of future instances of this behavior by the offender, and

WHEREAS, in the words of Dame Miestra Schiva she admittedly engaged in an extended campaign of harassment she termed rough music due to a perceived attack, in cartoon-form, on her Sufi Islam faith: "Don't play dumb, AD. I told you over and over again at the time that religious bigotry was one of the motivations for Rough Music.", and

WHEREAS, in the words of Baron Alexandreu Davinescu this campaign led to serious personal distress: "...when Dama Miestra followed me from thread to thread, harassing me with "rough music" until I actually posted a whole thread pleading for her to stop... that bothered me, deeply, and I think that behavior is deeply unacceptable. I think it's because she doesn't think of me or other enemies as real people. In the speech and elsewhere, she's referred to her theory that I'm just "roleplaying" or "playing a game." And I guess if I'm playing a game, then I'm not a real person so she can say whatever she wants. That's why she celebrated -- seriously, celebrated! -- that she'd managed to "get" me with her campaign of harassment... she said it was because she finally felt like she'd managed to get at the real me," and

WHEREAS, Baron Alexandreu Davinescu, continued, in relation to the actions of Dame Miestra Schiva, stating the following: "You have said how you are delighted by the fact that you were able to disrupt my mental health and hurt me, and you still appear certain that it was fair and I deserved any cruelty you wanted to inflict.", and

WHEREAS, more recently there is a rise in a concerning tactic, perhaps a new form of Rough Music by Dame Miestra Schiva as she engages in persistent name-calling of MCs including vulgar terms such as verpäs (penis or dick?) which are made in combination with accusations of harassment, conspiracy-mongering, and abuse, and

WHEREAS, instead of exploring the clearly abhorrent Rough Music case and more recent antagonistic behavior by the Seneschal herself, the Summit has focused on a case involving MC Breneir Tzaracomprada and the current Secretary of State Luc da Schir, which has neither any acknowledged intent to harass nor public assertions of harm from the proposed victim, ignoring the case where the current Seneschal Dame Miestra Schiva repeatedly acknowledged intent to harass and where Baron Alexandreu Davinescu has, in clear and moving language quoted above, publicly acknowledged the harm of that harassment, and

WHEREAS, it is imperative that we examine actual admitted, harmful, unrepentant, and undisputed abusive behavior no matter our political alliances otherwise we risk nurturing the very toxic and destructive culture the Summit was convened to address.

THEREFORE be it known that it is the Sense of the Ziu that any further "rough music" with express intent to disrupt someone's mental health by anyone must not be tolerated by the administrators of Wittenberg and the Chancery and that the truly unbearable impacts borne by some were unfortunate and regrettable.

Similarly, anyone else acting in such a way must meet firm consequences. We encourage the administrator(s) of Wittenberg to be more proactive in their efforts to curtail abuse by other citizens no matter how powerful or aggressive the individual.

Political figures are urged to not use accusations of sexual harassment for political attacks (more rough music) as Talossa has the unfortunate distinction among micronations of having two former leaders convicted of sexual abuse of minors: Iusti Canun of the RUMP and Carlus Xheraltescu of the Free Democrats.

The Chancery is hereby further encouraged to appoint an official to whom this power is delegated, considering that the Secretary of State might feel conflicted if they are personally the target of rough music.

Finally, no one deserves rough music, whether it's from Dame Miestra Schiva or anyone else. It is not fair, it must not be tolerated, and we need to remember the humanity of even those for whom we hold a deep antipathy.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Breneir Tzaracomprada (MC-GREEN)

61RZ18 - The Census Review Act

WHEREAS, El Lexhatx Title C Article 1.2.2.2 states:

"Other questions on the Talossan Census shall be identical to the questions on the last census. These questions may be changed by the Chancery, either of its own volition or on request from the Seneschal, but any changes shall be approved by the Ziu, without needing to go through committee."

WHEREAS, a biennial Census is due this summer; and

WHEREAS, several points regarding the current set of questions were raised following the last Census in 2023; so

THEREFORE be it enacted by the King, Cosa and Senäts in Ziu assembled, that the first Census following passage of this Act shall contain the following questions, pursuant to El Lexhatx Title C Article 1.2.2.2 and in addition to those provided by C.1.2.2.1:

- Gender, with the listed options of Male, Female, Nonbinary, and Other
- Age, with the listed options of 14-20, 21-30, 31-40, 41-50, 51-60, and 60+ years
- Civil Status
- Household size, expressed as a range from 1 to 10+
- Industry, instructing respondents "choose category that best describes your occupation" and with the listed options of Agriculture, Arts, Business and Finance, Clergy and Community Services, Construction and Trades, Education and Childcare, Engineering and Computer Science, Healthcare, Homemaking, Hospitality and Food Services, Legal Services, Manufacturing, Military, Sales, Sciences, Transportation, Unemployed, and Other.
- Ethnic self-identification
- Religious Affiliation, with the listed options of Buddhism, Christianity (Orthodox), Christianity (Protestant), Christianity (Roman Catholic), Hinduism, Islam (Shia), Islam (Sunni), Judaism, Nonreligious, and Other.
- Education Level
- Household Income, with options allowing for a wide range of answers and denominated in both louse and euro and United States dollar equivalents.
- Location of physical residence, with a suggestion respondents reply down to the precision required by provincial catchment legislation.

FURTHERMORE, the Chancery may privately contact respondents whose place of residence doesn't match their current provincial assignment to advise them of their right to move to their province of residence if they so choose.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Sir Lüc da Schir (Secretary of State)

61RZ19 - Terpelaziuns Reform Act

WHEREAS the Túischac'h of the Cosa has requested amendments to the law on Terpelaziuns to enable him to more effectively moderate official questions to the Government, responses, supplementary questions, and to maintain decorum therein:

BE IT ENACTED by the King, Cosa and Senäts of Talossa in Ziu assembled that:

1. El Lexhatx H.1.2.3.2, which currently reads:

1.2.3.2 Once the first (round of) supplementary question(s) have been answered, the floor shall be considered open to contributions from other Members of the Cosă and Senators. Any questions posed in this stage shall not be bound by any formal time constraints.

is hereby deleted in its entirety.

2. A new section to be added to El Lexhatx, numbered H.1.2.5, as follows:

1.2.5. The presiding officer of the questioner's House shall enforce decorum in both Terpelaziuns and answers to Terpelaziuns. The presiding Officer may require questioners to rephrase Terpelaziuns, or Ministers or their substitutes to rephrase answers to Terpelaziuns, to maintain decorum. In cases of continued violations, the presiding Officer may instruct the questioner or the Minister or their substitute to withdraw or apologise for a statement or comment, and remove any such statement or comment from the record in the absence of such withdrawal or apology; or disallow any further supplementary questions and responses to the Terpelaziun at issue.

Uréu q'estadra sã,
Dame Miestră Schivă (MC-¡Avant!)
